

Year 5 Blog – Week Commencing 25.09.2023: Camp Green Lake or Jail?

A fantastic week in Year 5!

Maths

This week in maths the pupils have been rounding numbers to 10,100,1000,10,000 and 100,000. They have developed their confidence on this and worked incredibly hard.

Writing

Pupils considered what makes a piece of writing persuasive and began to write their own speech to convince teenagers to choose Camp Green Lake over jail. They have created some fantastic pieces of work and the Year 5 teachers have been really impressed by the use of rhetorical questions, alliteration and exaggeration in their work!

Science

A highlight of the week! Pupils completed an experiment to explore which cup would make the best thermal insulator.

Pupils measured the temperature of water within a ceramic mug, plastic cup and paper cup and recorded their results.

Well done on a fantastic experiment Year 5!
