

Year 5 Blog - Week Commencing 23.01.23: Art Day!

This week in year 5 we have started to write our Sci-Fi narrative stories. The pupils have taken inspiration from a Star Wars clip that we watched together. There has been some fantastic pieces of writing so far!

In Maths, the pupils have started our next block of learning on Fractions. The children have enjoyed consolidating their knowledge of fractions so far.

In Science this week, Year 5 learnt about Earth's rotation to explain day and night. This involved drawing a graph to show the hours of daylight over a year.

Continuing our reading of Cosmic, this week the pupils have been focusing on the skill of prediction.

Finally, we completed our Art day! We spent the day learning about the artist, Frank Bowling. Using watercolour paints, the pupils developed their skills in how to use watercolour. Taking inspiration from Frank Bowling's art the pupils then created their final piece using watercolour.
