

Year 4 Blog - Week commencing 8th January 2024

Year 4 have had an exciting first week back after the Christmas break!

The children were introduced to our new topic 'Making a Difference' on Monday and they are quickly joining in with interesting debates about different ways we could help to make a difference against climate change.

During our Hook Day, Year 4 wrote their own poems inspired by the song 'What a Wonderful World'. They included expanded noun phrases and repetition in their work. In the afternoon the children painted protest posters that could be used in a march against climate change. We were very impressed by their knowledge and creativity.

In writing this week Year 4 have been working on poetry. They have been learning about different poetic devices such as alliteration, similes and metaphors to ensure their poems include imagery for the reader. Next week they will be performing these poems to the class.

In Geography this week. The children learnt about non-renewable and renewable energy. They weighed up the pros and cons of using renewable energy, such as solar energy and wind energy. It was very interesting listening to each of their opinions.
