

Year 6 Blog – week commencing 11th March 2024

Assessment, Science and Panto week!

The year 6 team are extremely proud of the children this week, we completed mock SATs and the results show the progress the children have made this year and especially in this half term.

On Thursday the children were treated to a fantastic performance by M&M Productions of The Jungle Book. Year 6 were a credit to the school and their teachers for their excellent behaviour; showing themselves as Kents Hill Junior School role models. Well done year 6!

On Friday, we completed an investigation for Science work. Year 6 were discovering how the respiratory system filters air particles in our bodies. The children thoroughly enjoyed this activity and was a pleasant afternoon after a very busy week, this allowed the children to have a relaxed and interesting Friday afternoon!
