

Year 6 Blog – Week Commencing 05.09.2023: Our Year 6 Leaders Preparation!

What a fantastic start it has been for our new Year 6 family as they enter their final year at Kents Hill Junior School. They have settled in extremely quickly and adapted very well in their new classrooms and have been very resilient to the hot weather we are having.

We have dropped them in at the deep end with the opportunity of writing their speeches to be on this academic year's Pupil leadership Team ready to deliver Monday next week. The jobs within the PLT come with a great deal of responsibility and the children are really having to apply their personal attributes to show they are the best suited to the role. We are really proud of all of their ambition and efforts when writing this week and we cannot wait to hear them deliver their speeches on Monday.

Our topic for this term is The Price of Freedom, and whether the price of freedom justifies the cost? Children have made a great start on their new Learning Journals, starting to piece together and identify the chronology of historical events that have made an impact on our lives, laws and legislations that we have today. In reading, we have read and analysed the key events from Henry's Freedom Box which has created fantastic discussion in the classroom, and they have been able to draw inferences about characters' feelings successfully.

Overall Year 6 have made a really positive start to the year and have immersed themselves into their new topic and have embraced their role of being role models to the rest of the school.
