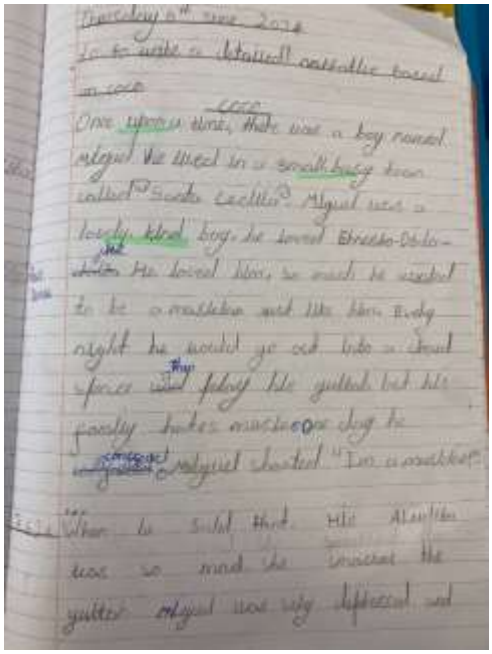
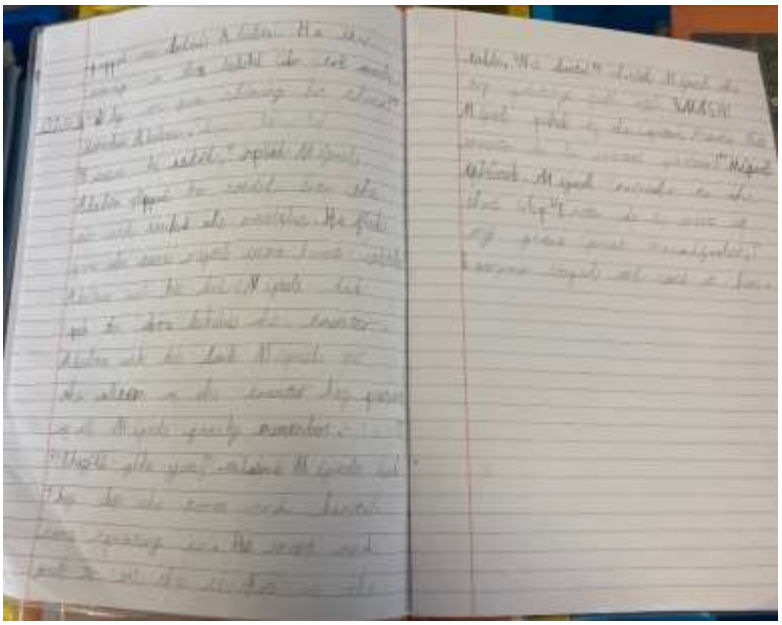
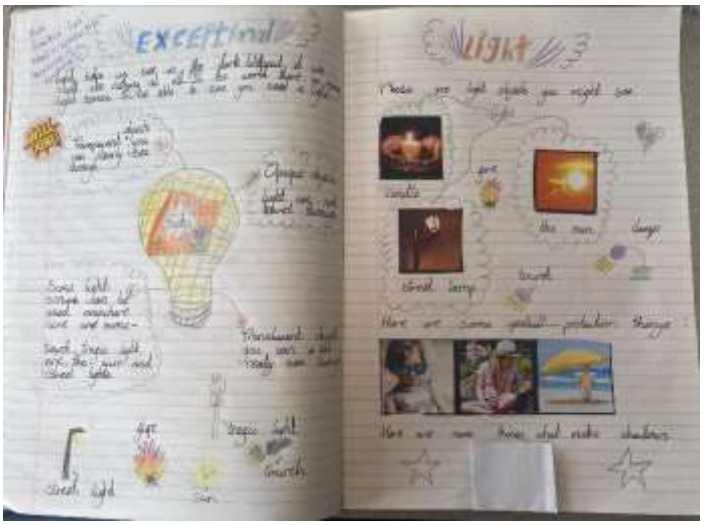
Year 3 Blog - Week commencing 3rd June 2024

Creating our own Coco narratives

This week, Year 3 have enjoyed beginning writing their narratives based on the Disney film Coco. They have been trying to use descriptive language, inverted commas and fronted adverbials within their writing. Below are some examples.

In maths, the children have been learning about time and using the clocks to practise 'past and to' times. They have also been learning how to count on periods of time.






In science, the children have finished off their light unit by creating a double page spread including everything they have learnt. Below are some examples of their work.
